AUTUMN LEAVES WINS HANDICAP.

Enters Stretch in Fifth Place, and Beats Roue a Neck in New Orleans Feature.

Tommy Griffin's Trainer Suspended From All Privileges of Track for Connection With Sweet Pepper Affair.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. New Orleans, La., Feb., 27.-Autum Leaves, backed from 10s to 6s, captured the Speed Handicap, worth $1.460 to the winner, by a neck from Roue, who beat Frank Bell by a half length for the place. The start was a miserable one. New York, the favorite, was practically left at the post. Scorpio had 126 pounds up. He tried to make the pace with this big impost and killed himself in the effort. Redman was raced into the ground chasing Scorpio. Autumn Leaves entered the stretch in fifth place, and overhauled Roue in the last stride. Frank Bell also finished trong, coming from fourth position in the last sixteenth, and beating Scorpio out f third money on the post.

Pretorious, one of Barney Schreiber's cast-offs, scored in the first race at 100 to Gus Heidorn, another one of Schrei-ber's cast-offs, led all the way and was beaten out by Pretorious in the last jump. Gus Heidorn and Lady Radnor closed equal favorites at 4 to 1. Lady Radner was beaten a head for third money Radner was beaten a head for third money by Josette.

Ctaremont struck a soft spot in the second. She was heavily backed at odds-on, and never left the result in doubt, winning eased up by three lengths after making all the pace. Clay Clement, at 300 to 1, beat Trogan by a neck for the piace. Clay Clement is a Texas-bred trick in J. J. Ogles stable. Clay Clement sout of Hibernia Queen, a mare that won many races in St. Louis.

Meistersinger galloped in front from the start to finish in the third, and won as he pleased from Circus Girl and Past. Circus Girl was the contending horse all the way.

Port Royal beat Ostrich by two lengths in the fifth race. Mauser and Gravina made all the running. Port Royal ran over the pacemakers in the last sixteenth. Ostrich beat Gravina by a neck for the

Mr. Menard had been a sufferer from catarrh of the stomach for several years and this disease finally resulted in his death. The body was buried from the Catholic Church at Prairie du Rocher last Sunday, the services being conducted by the Reverend Father C. J. Eschmann, who also gave absolution at the grave. Mr. Menard was born at Kaskaskia, Ill., August 5, 187.

He enlisted in the army in 1864, and after serving one year received an honorable discharge. Mr. Menard was married twice, his first wife having died three years after their marriage. After his discharge from the army he again married, and the widow and seven children survive him. The eldest child is Mrs. A. F. Molair of this city, and a son, E. E. Menard, Jr., is the representative of the Waters Pierce Oil Company of St. Louis.

LIBRARY POSITIONS OPEN. Examination of Applicants to Take Place Next Thursday. An examination of applicants for positions in the Public Library will be held next Thursday morning at the Library building. Young men and women between the ages of 17 and 25 years will be eligible. the ages of 17 and 25 years will be eligible. February and March are usually the busiest months at the Library, and at present every department has more than it can do to supply the calls for books.

To provide for this situation the examination has been called. Former pupils of the High School or schools of that character may apply. A knowledge of two or three languages will be an advantage to applicants.

The chances for promotion in the Library will be very good within the next few years on account of the expected rapid expansion in library facilities in St. Louis after the World's Fair.

and his stomach became more and more unguarded. Munro, always smiling, cool and calculating, followed Kid McCoy's advice to "punch him in the stomach."

During a few moments of the third round, when Munro's left opened a gash in Sharkey's left eye and sent the blood streaming down his face Sharkey displayed his old-time spirit. He rushed Munro, his face transformed by flendish fury, his arms few like the wings of a windmill and every lota of his strength was employed to conquer his opponent.

Even in that moment of hurricane blows Munro guarded the vital points in his anatomy, and drove straight punches into the sailor with precision and care. Sharkey went to his knees in the fifth round and in the Sixth Munro might have lost the glory earned so hard when a swing sent him down. He was up in a moment, still smilling and fighting in the same brilliant manner.

SHARKEY ALMOST OUT.

SHARKEY ALMOST OUT. In the sixth round, while the rafters were being fairly shattered by cheers, were being fairly shattered by cheers. Sharkey was all but out. Game to the last he stood. Both eyes bleeding, his nose bruised, his murcles all but failing to nerform their functions, he took the awful punishment and welcomed the bell. He looked a victor at no point in the contest, and left the ring a battered and disappointed pugilist.

Tom Sharkey entered the ring at 10 o'clock, the New York element greeting the battle-scarred pugilist with a mighty cheer. Sharkey wore bandages around the knuckles of both hands. Bahind him were Spike Sullivan. Tom Carey. Tom Riley, Jim Buckley and Pat Rooney.

Jack Munro was received as enthusiastically, a few minutes later. In his corner were Kild McCoy, Dal Hawkins, Frank Sawtelle and Ed McAvoy of Boston.

Sharkey had the appearance of having trained faithfully. His muscles looked firm as steel. His air was serious as he scrutinized his weighty opponent long and carefully as Munro climbed through the ropes, and not without some concern.

There was no mistaking the condition of Munro. With the chance of meeting Jeffries for the championship crown he had lost no chance to prepare himself. He was easy of manner and looked confident.

"Barrington told me," continued Morrison, "that after the fight between McCann and the two mer they made up, and one of the men went nway to get a carriage. When he came back he said the men kicked and beat him and rolled him over into a gutter, which, he said, accounted for the blood on the back of the coat.

"He said McCann had cut a woman's throat, and would never come back, but if he did come back, he (Barrington) would kill him. l him. While I was in the room," the witness went on, "Barrington took a revolver from under the phlow on the bed and put it in his trunk."

A pearl-handled Smith & Wesson re-volver of Sk caliber, which was found in Earrington's trunk, was shown to the wit-

FIGHT BY ROUNDS.

The following is the way the battle was found in the winness fought, by rounds:

Sharkey led and missed. Mouro landed a left straight-arm punches which Munro administered, and doubtless another round would have finished him.

THE EASTERN WAR

Is in many respects the most interesting international conflict of the century. Russia, the larger power, is at disadvantage in being so far from base. Japan's disadvantage lies in the superior land forces she will ultimately face if the war lasts.

ALL OF THE DETAILS OF ACTUAL FIGHTING,

With adequate picturing, will be a pronounced feature of the Daily Republic's unexampled special war service.

In addition, there will appear, daily and Sunday, many articles of interest, with striking illustrations, having a bearing on the peoples and territory, affected.

If you are not now a regular reader of the daily and Sunday Republic there is no better time to speak to your newsdealer on the subject.
